

2021 FETTI Sponsorship Opportunity

Friends of FETTI – On behalf of the National Forum for Environmental and Toxic Tort Issues (“FETTI”) Conference Committee, Happy New Year!

We hope that your 2021 has started off on a positive note. With that sentiment, we wanted to let you know that we are very optimistic that there will be a 2021 FETTI Conference in Chicago this September 29th – October 1. While there are still many decisions that will not be able to be made until we have more concrete information, we are committed to having a 2021 conference. This will hopefully be in person at the Union League Club. The Committee is also looking into potential hybrid options, to the extent that we can offer that opportunity to those who would prefer remote attendance.

We recognize that 2020 was a challenging one for everyone. This certainly includes all of you. We also know that the environment was one that likely created financial hardship for many of our partners. As you know, FETTI is a nonprofit organization that relies heavily on its sponsors to make the conference possible. Our generous sponsors, along with all the volunteer work performed by the Committee, make it possible for us to put on a world class conference at a price point well below the industry average.

We are contacting you now to ask for your support for the 2021 FETTI Conference. We know that many of your organizations begin budgeting for marketing early in the year. We firmly believe that we offer significant value to our sponsors at the different levels that are available. Those levels for 2021 are as follows:
